Instructions for Using a Wood-Fired Hot Tub

1.Fill the Tub:

Using the hose provided fill to water level – (don't over fill as this will take longer to heat and overflow). Before lighting the fire, ensure the hot tub is filled with water to the designated level. Never light the stove without water, as this can damage the heater.

2. Prepare the Fire:

Open the stove door and place dry firewood inside. Some firelighters are good to start with using the smaller bits of wood then light the fire using matches or a lighter, and add more wood gradually to build up the heat.

3. Monitor the Temperature:

Allow the water to heat up, which usually takes between 2–4 hours depending on the starting temperature and amount of wood used. Stir the water occasionally to distribute the heat evenly.

4. Check and Maintain:

Once the water reaches your desired temperature (typically between 37–39°C), maintain the fire with small logs to keep it warm. Use the provided thermometer to check the temperature.

5. Safe Entry:

When the water is ready, ensure the fire is low and no embers are exposed before entering. Always supervise children closely, and avoid entering if the water feels too hot.

6. After Use:

Let the fire die down naturally, and never leave it unattended. Replace the cover once the water has cooled and ensure the area around the stove is free of debris. For your safety and enjoyment, please follow all hot tub rules and report any concerns to the property owner.
